Creative Kids Wanted: Design the Next Pierce County Library Card!

PIERCE COUNTY, Washington – The Pierce County Library System is calling on young artists across the county to design future library cards! Children and teens are invited to showcase their creativity by submitting original artwork for the Library Card Design Contest, now through Sept. 30, 2025.

Entries can be submitted at any Pierce County Library location. The winning design will be featured on a new library card, inspiring readers and learners throughout the community.

Artists are limited to one entry per person. Artwork must be portrait or landscape orientation and up to 7 inches x 11 inches in size. Professional artists will review entries and select finalists. Then, in the coming months, the public will vote online for their favorite designs in two age groups ages (5-11 and 12-18).

Entry forms are available online at cardcontest.pcls.us.

The Library System will convert the designs into 10,000 library cards for each selected drawing, and people throughout Pierce County may choose the library card as their card for use in checking out books, movies and other materials from the 19 Pierce County Libraries.
